LAUDATO SI'

Action Plan

Now, in this time and place in our story and place in the world, we undertake with courage, conviction, and compassion the responsibility to ...

... Care for Earth, our Common Home.

... stand with people who have been impacted by climate change, poverty, violence, and exploitation.

... understand the interconnections of all creation and to undertake a conversion journey.

... engage as Co-creators with God to promote justice, to advocate with/for people who are powerless and oppressed, and to sustain practices which provide opportunity for all humanity to live fully human lives.

Some helpful concepts and definitions to understanding Laudato Si'

We are not faced with two separate crises, the environmental and the other social, but rather one complex crisis which is both social and environmental. Strategies for a solution demand an integrated approach to combating poverty, restoring dignity to the underprivileged, and at the same time protecting nature. (¶ 139) ~ Pope Francis in Laudato Si' Care for Our Common Home

What is the Laudato Si' Action Platform?

It is a journey to integral ecology.

What is "integral ecology"?

It is based on the belief: Interconnection is the ESSENCE OF REALITY

A way of seeing our human connection with all of creation

A moral principal for acting in harmony with all of creation

An understanding of our interdependency with all of creation

What is "right relationship"?

The idea of 'being in right relationship' comes from the Principle of Oneness, the interconnectedness of all things. It is an idea and ideal that Pope Francis calls forth often in his preaching and in his writing; it is integral to Laudato Si' Care for Our Common Home.

Catholic Understanding of Right Relationship: Righteousness means right relationships – good rapport with your wife, your neighbor, your parents, your children, your co-workers, and with God. Right relationships take work, daily efforts of honesty and patience, forgiveness and perseverance – doing little things with love from morning until night.

Stewardship is a Core Value Employees adopted some years ago. It was informed by:

1992 Congregation Direction Statement

"We commit ourselves to foster the contemplative stance that all the Earth is sacred and interconnected; respect and accountability for the Earth are necessary to affirm life.

We affirm that actions which impact the environment will be preceded by the question:

Is this action which I (we) are performing supportive of the environment."

This Action Plan is a guide for transformational action and expansion of SOLIDARITY.

GOALS OVERVIEW

Seven interlocking global goals guide the Laudato Si' Action Platform in bringing about a better world for all creation. Progress in any one of the goals has an impact, in varying degrees, on the other six goals.

The seven interlocking goals or directions for action are:

1. Responding to the Cry of the Earth – Promote the care of the earth's resources for now and for future generations.
2. Responding to the Cry of the Poor – Defend human life from conception to death with special attention given to vulnerable groups such as Indigenous communities, migrants, children at risk through slavery, and others.
3. Building Ecological Economics – Foster sustainable production and ethical consumption of goods.
4. Adopting Simple, Sustainable Lifestyles – Be moderate in the use of resources and energy.
5. Creating Ecological Education – Re-think and re-design educational curricula and educational institutional reform to create ecological awareness and action.
6. Recovering Ecological Spirituality – Recover a religious vision of God's creation and encourage greater contact with the natural world in a spirit of wonder, praise, joy, and gratitude.
7. Promoting Community Action and Advocacy – Develop policies that protect our common home and all who share it by advocacy and people's campaigns on local, regional, national and international levels.

INTRODUCTION

Pope Francis issued the encyclical letter Laudato Si', known in English as On Care for Our Common Home in 2015. For the fifth anniversary of the encyclical in 2020, the worldwide “Laudato Si’ Action Platform” was initiated with a coordinating Office in the Vatican. It calls all people of goodwill to work toward restoring the earth and healing relationships in our one human family by both developing and committing to a specific action plan with measurable outcomes. Groups as well as individuals are encouraged to be part of this worldwide plan.

Given the complexity of the ecological and human justice crises facing our world today, we need to study and reflect, pray, and act, as well as advocate for policies that effectively address the environmental and human rights challenges that our world faces today.

Each one of us is called to respond to the critical question posed by Pope Francis when he issued the encyclical Laudato Si': “What is happening to our Common Home?”

The human family faces increasing risks of hunger, disease, migration, and conflict due to climate change and environmental degradation. Unfortunately, the most vulnerable suffer above all.

As vowed Dominican Sisters and committed Dominican Associates of Grand Rapids, Michigan, we exist in relationship with God, one another, and all creation.

In a video series about the Laudato Si’ Action Plan Goals by Sr. Mary Catherine Fodrocy, she shares these thoughts about approaching the Action Platform.

“The extreme gravity of the current issues concerning our common home and one family requires community involvement and participatory action on the international, national, regional, and local levels to bring about policies and changes that protect the earth and people for now and future generations.

Our personal growth in understanding and awareness of the issues facing us and our willingness to change some harmful behaviors are the foundation of our community involvement and planned action with others. This is the starting point. We need to go on from here.

The challenge before us is to explore and then commit to some organizations and groups on various levels that are working towards a sustainable ecology. The immediate questions before us are:

- What do I need to learn?
- Where can I join others in supporting and collaborating with efforts already being made?
- What new efforts are needed?

Collaboration and action with organizations, groups, and individuals can make significant healthy changes in the environment and society. There will be an impact on the earth, the people who are poor and vulnerable, on economics, lifestyle, education, and spirituality.”

OUR COMMITMENT

We have been invited by Pope Francis to join with myriad institutions and individuals of the Church to journey toward integral Ecology. We undertake with courage, conviction, and compassion the responsibility to Care for Earth, our Common Home, and to stand with people who have been impacted by climate change, poverty, violence, and exploitation. We desire to understand the interconnections of all creation and to undertake a conversion journey. We, who live in our evolving universe, engage as Co-creators with God to promote justice, to advocate with/for people who are powerless and oppressed, and to sustain practices which provide opportunity for all humanity to live fully human lives.

We pledge to join with others to integrate the seven goals of the Laudato Si Action Platform into our lived reality as Dominican Sisters of Grand Rapids.

Affirmed at Dominican Sisters ~ Grand Rapids General Assembly on August 6, 2021

This sense of responsibility for an integral approach to Care of Creation is not a new commitment, but rather a deepening of our community's recognition of the sacred interdependence of creation and our place in the web of life. The goals and actions align with the Direction Statements of our Congregation.

Actions could include the adoption of renewable energies and energy sufficiency measures, achieving carbon neutrality, protecting biodiversity, promoting sustainable agriculture, and guaranteeing access to clean water for all.

Action 1 - Planting of Trees on the Marywood Campus

Background:

In 2022, DSGR joined a collaborative to expand the tree canopy in the City of Grand Rapids. The 2011 Green Grand Rapids amendment to the City's master plan established a 40% tree canopy goal in Grand Rapids. The Urban Forest Project is a collective effort to increase tree canopy by maximizing the number of trees planted each year.

Specific:

Plant 100 trees to provide climate control on the Marywood Campus grounds.

Measurable:

- Easy to keep track of new trees each year on Marywood Campus. A small team of persons can be responsible for keeping the count and where the trees are located.
- Audit/map current tree canopy, track newly planted trees, data analysis to determine climate footprint and impact progression.

Achievable:

- The first set of trees (22) were planted on October 29, 2022. Next set scheduled to be planted fall of 2023.

Realistic:

- The grounds staff are responsible for watering these trees for 2 years or until well established.

A Prayer for Our Earth

All-powerful God, you are present in the whole universe and in the smallest of your creatures. You embrace with your tenderness all that exists. Pour out upon us the power of your love, that we may protect life and beauty.

Fill us with peace, that we may live as brothers and sisters, harming no one. O God of the poor, help us to rescue the abandoned and forgotten of this earth, so precious in your eyes. Bring healing to our lives, that we may protect the world and not prey on it, that we may sow beauty, not pollution and destruction.

Touch the hearts of those who look only for gain at the expense of the poor and the earth. Teach us to discover the worth of each thing, to be filled with awe and contemplation, to recognize that we are profoundly united with every creature as we journey towards your infinite light. We thank you for being with us each day. Encourage us, we pray, in our struggle for justice, love and peace.

AMEN
